TWIN CITIES HAS GONE TO THE DOGS!

Stroll through the facility and meet a variety of dog handlers, breeders and trainers while you visit appetizer stations, play games and gather with fellow upland enthusiasts. Then grab a seat for Craig Koshyk, photographer, author and self-professed “dog nut”. Through photos and videos, he will lead participants on a virtual tour of the versatile dog world. He will explain the different approaches to breeding, raising, training and hunting over pointing dogs used by hunters in various parts of the world. He will also share the history of upland hunting gained from his research for Pointing Dogs.

A variety of dog handlers, breeders and trainers will be exhibiting during the event. In the event travel restrictions prevent Craig from attending in person, the presentation will be facilitated electronically and each exhibitor will do a brief presentation about their training programs and hunting.

A venue capacity of over 300 provides ample space for social distancing and will be set up in accordance with local COVID-19 requirements with social distancing considerations. Guests are asked to follow current local restaurant restrictions.

EARLY REGISTRATION SPECIAL: the first 75 registrants will be entered into a drawing for an autographed copy of Craig’s book, Pointing Dogs, Volume One: The Continentals.

Craig is a writer, photographer, hunter and gun dog enthusiast. In the late 1990s he set out to do what had been done by nobody before him, and is unlikely to ever be done again: to see, photograph and describe every one of over 30 different continental pointing breeds, form firsthand experience with each at work in the field. After over a decade of travel and countless hours of research, he achieved his goal and wrote Pointing Dogs, Volume One: The Continentals. Since then, Craig has spent nearly another decade researching and travelling to see and photograph the subject of the follow-up volume, The British and Irish Pointing Breeds. The book is currently in the design stages and should be ready for the printers mid-2020.
